

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Trimco Appoints Anthony Mastroianni Director of Sales, Eastern U.S.

Los Angeles, CA – January 7, 2015 – Trimco Hardware, an industry leader in high-performing security and protection hardware for government, commercial and institutional buildings, is pleased to announce the appointment of Anthony Mastroianni to the Trimco leadership team as Director of Sales, Eastern U.S., effective immediately.

Anthony is a graduate of Loyola University, Maryland, with a B.S. in Business and a minor in Computer Science. Anthony comes to Trimco from a very successful 12-year career with Stanley Black and Decker, where he held various functional and managerial roles in the security door hardware division including product marketing, supply chain, operations, business development, and most recently, Distribution Development Manager for Upstate New York.

Anthony's diverse background, proven track record, industry relationships, boundless energy, and passion for the door hardware business makes him an exciting addition to the Trimco team. Anthony will continue to reside in New York.

Anthony Mastroianni
Trimco Director of Sales, Eastern U.S.

ABOUT TRIMCO HARDWARE

Trimco Hardware is an industry leader in high-performing security and protection hardware for government, commercial and institutional buildings. For over 65 years, Trimco has manufactured the broadest array of proprietary engineered functional trim products in the industry. Trimco is an independent and family-owned business headquartered in Los Angeles, California. For more information please visit www.trimcohardware.com.

Media Contact

Katherine Hills
Public Relations
Krush Creative Group
949.753.9069 (office)
949.697.9715 (mobile)
kathy@krushcreative.com

Adam Matusz
Vice President & COO
Trimco Hardware
323.262.4191 (office)
AMatusz@trimcohardware.com